

WORKING FOR OUR COMMUNITY

Aid For Our Towns

A very important part of my job representing the people of the 12th state Senate District is ensuring Branford, Durham, Guilford, Killingworth, Madison and North Branford receive their fair share of state funding. I am pleased to report the following grants and reimbursements from the state in Fiscal Year 2009–2010:

| | Fiscal Year 09-10 |
|---|-------------------|
| Total Education Grants | $21,348,126 |
| Town Aid Road Fund Grant | $935,969 |
| Mashantucket Pequot & Mohegan Fund Grant | $190,308 |
| Local Capital Improvement Program (LoCIP) | $634,343 |
| Payment in Lieu of Taxes (PILOT) | $928,911 |
| Total State Funds to the 12th District | $24,037,657 |

Preserving Connecticut Farmland

Much of Connecticut’s farmland and open space is in jeopardy of being paved over, threatening the state’s farming industry and quality of life. This new law helps the state permanently protect 1,300 acres of farmland located across Connecticut. Thanks to the new law, farmers will have greater certainty that the land they depend on will remain farmland. A special board will also review options for preserving more open space and farmland—a boost for the economy and the environment.

Supporting Connecticut’s Dairy Farmers

Dairy farmers throughout Connecticut and across the country are being hit extremely hard by these tough financial times. Many are on the brink of bankruptcy. A new law creates an account to assist dairy farmers and funds it by temporarily increasing municipal recording fees. By passing this legislation, Connecticut is investing in a valuable resource and providing aid to one of the oldest industries in our state.

Funding Saved for Safe Schools

It’s hard to imagine anything more important than the safety of our children. That’s why I worked hard to protect threatened funding for school security improvements such as those in Guilford and North Branford. Thanks to this state support, these towns will be able to purchase surveillance cameras, entryway buzzer systems, scan cards and other systems to improve security.

Dear Neighbor,

The global recession has hit Connecticut hard. People have lost their jobs and even their homes. At the same time, the state’s budget deficit reached a record high of $8.5 billion. We believe that there will be continuing deficits which will have to be addressed.

Our challenge this legislative session was not simply to balance the budget; we were determined to help grow jobs and protect working families and middle-class folks who are struggling to survive the recession.

We did it by passing a fair budget that makes tough cuts, protects funding for education and small businesses, and avoids across-the-board tax increases. I’m also pleased that we passed bills that will help fight breast cancer and autism, protect consumers from identity theft and preserve our environment.

As always, I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Ed Meyer

Fighting for a Fair Budget

In September, the General Assembly and Governor Rell agreed on a budget for the next two years. The compromise budget is not perfect but it includes more than $3 billion in spending cuts—the largest reduction in state history. We did it by cutting costs in every agency and all parts of government.

At the same time, we were able to protect middle-class families, the elderly, children and the poor from devastating cuts to critical services. Democrats also made the tax code fairer by lowering the inheritance tax and raising revenues from joint filers making more than $1 million a year. The budget will help stabilize Connecticut's economy and help families survive this difficult time.

Protecting Families from Reckless Cuts

Despite efforts by some to make reckless cuts, I stood up for these and other important programs and services:

- ▶ The LIFE STAR medical helicopter has helped save lives in every town and city in Connecticut. It is an especially vital service for those in rural parts of the state.
- ▶ Higher education scholarships help students and their parents afford college. A recession is the worst time to reduce scholarships and financial aid.
- ▶ Public libraries add so much to our towns and cities. Across-the-board cuts, as some proposed, would have hit them hard.
- ▶ School-based health centers, such as the Branford clinic, help protect children from epidemics, such as the flu. Deep cuts to these centers would have undermined public health.

Comprehensive Health Care Reform

Skyrocketing health care costs are squeezing businesses and families. The status quo is unaffordable—that's why we're working hard on health care in Connecticut.

Thanks to the passage of SustiNet, Connecticut is well positioned to be a national leader on health care reform. This bold initiative seeks to overhaul the state's health care system by focusing on improved quality and access to services, addressing coverage for the uninsured and controlling skyrocketing costs. The legislature will receive detailed recommendations in 2011 with the goal of lowering costs and expanding access.

Fighting Breast Cancer With Early Detection

A key part in the fight against breast cancer is early detection, which is why the Democrats enacted legislation that focuses on communication of mammographic breast density information to patients. It requires that all mammography reports given to a patient include information about breast density. When applicable, the report must include this notice: "If your mammogram demonstrates that you have dense breast tissue, which could hide small abnormalities, you might benefit from supplementary screening tests, which can include a breast ultrasound screening or a breast MRI examination."

Criminal Penalties for Identity Theft

Identity theft is a serious crime that can have devastating consequences for victims who spend, on average, $1,180 and 60 hours cleaning up their credit record. Damaged credit makes it tough to get a good interest rate on a car loan, home mortgage or credit card. This year, we created a new law that expands the definition of "identity theft" and increases the penalties for those who target seniors.

HELPING FAMILIES SURVIVE THE RECESSION

For Those on the Brink of Foreclosure

The housing market crash has had a devastating effect on our state and national economies. Connecticut has been a leader in its effort to keep people in their homes and stabilize property values for all homeowners. We built on that success this year by expanding two important mortgage assistance programs. A new law now requires banks and homeowners to work together to explore options before any foreclosure takes place. The law also improves regulation of mortgage professionals and expands the banking commissioner's enforcement and investigative authority.

Relief From Rising Property Taxes

A new law gives municipalities and local taxpayers some relief from the revaluation schedule. Local governments must conduct property revaluation every five years, but now there's an option to amend that schedule. With the cost of assessments as high as $60 per parcel, the new law could provide considerable savings for municipal governments and for property owners who can least afford higher taxable assessments in this troubled economy.

JOB, JOB, JOB

The Backbone of Connecticut's Economy

This past legislative session we took important steps to help protect small businesses and their workers. A recession is the wrong time to eliminate state support for small businesses. That's why we opposed efforts to shut down business incubators, economic assistance grants and supply-chain initiatives—all of which help businesses boost productivity and grow jobs.

We also addressed one of the largest challenges facing small businesses: the cost of health care. We passed a bill that would have given businesses access to the state health insurance pool, lowering premiums and saving employees and employers money. Unfortunately the governor vetoed this bill.
